BENTON, Ky. -- Ford RV Refrigeration invites people to learn about the myths and truths of RV refrigeration in an attempt to decrease the vast amount of repairable refrigerators being dumped in landfills, the company announced today.

The company will conduct free seminars at their Kentucky training center one Saturday per month from October through May from 9 to 11 a.m. The company is also willing to present the material at rallies, dealer open houses and other RV-related events. Training seminars are scheduled for Oct. 2, Nov. 6, Dec. 4, Jan. 8, Feb. 5, March 5, April 2 and May 7.

"We will discuss things you do not know about your RV refrigerator including troubleshooting and repairs that you can do plus how you can save hundreds to thousands of dollars," said Onna Lee Ford, co-owner of Ford RV Refrigeration.

As the only certified RV refrigerator reconditioning training center in the United States, Ford RV Refrigeration Training Center staff have written and published two manuals for RV owners and service technicians. They have also written many articles on RV refrigerators for RV Technician, RV Pro, and other RV magazines.

The same seminar was presented at the Affinity Group's "The Rally" in Louisville, Ky., in where more than 7,000 people attended.

"The response from the RV owners was phenomenal," said co-owner Roger Ford. "It was such a pleasure to educate them and see their excitement when they finally heard the truth about RV refrigerators. This has prompted us to try to educate even more RVer's and help them save money."
